

voluntaryskills.com is an award winning website offering information on training and development opportunities to organisations in the Third Sector. We cover all areas in the North of England, bringing you a comprehensive database of training courses and qualifications to top up your skills, details of upcoming events, current job and volunteer vacancies and all the latest news.

Our website reach is not only in the Northern regions; around a third of our website users are based in London which means we have the ability to appeal locally, regionally and on a national level. Have you got something you want to promote to organisations in the voluntary and community sector? voluntaryskills.com is the perfect way to reach your target audience – see our wide range of promotional opportunities below, there’s something for every budget! Or, you can contact us for a more personalised promotional plan which may save you even more...

1. Event page listings – www.voluntaryskills.com/events

- Unlimited time period on web – so, for example if you confirm details of a conference in March and it is being held in September, it will be advertised for the whole 6 months

- Cost: £50 per edition

6. Dedicated e-bulletin

- E-bulletin sent to our whole mailing list focusing on only your message
- Option to promote a course, event, your organisation or a combination of all
- Include logos, images and hyperlinks to your website
- Tracked links – to monitor how many people your message reached and the response (click through rate) – on request

Cost: on request block bookings discounts may be available

We are constantly developing the opportunities for organisations to make the most of our end-users and e-bulletin subscribers. These opportunities are not limited; if you have a specific method of advertising in mind please feel free to give me a call to discuss.

When you book a block booking payment must be made in advance and you can choose to select which months you wish to book for (subject to availability).

- Ad bookings do not have to relate to events, you can use the ad space to promote any offering (e.g. special offers, discounted early-bird booking). Each ad will run from the first working day of the month to the last and must be supplied at least 10 days in advance of the first working day of the month.
- E-bulletin bookings again can promote whatever offer you wish and should be supplied by 20th of each month, unless requested otherwise.
- VAT applies to all booking – prices above are exclusive of VAT.
